

[City Park in Lake Mills]

The north side of the present city park i Lake Mills, the site of present Madison street, was the site of the“bivouac“of teamsters who hauled lead from the Dodgeville area to Milwaukee. These hauls were instituted before Wisconsin was admitted to statehood.